

YOU can write for the Indiana Literacy Journal!

The Indiana Literacy Journal needs your contributions to make the journal great!
We are seeking submissions related to all areas of literacy and encourage teacher voices!

Guidelines for Submission

Full-length articles should run no more than 6,000 words. (including main text and references) and should provide readers, who are mostly practitioners, with classroom ideas for literacy development, based on sound theory and research. Other types of submissions, including teaching tips, strategy suggestions, technology tools, poems, art, classroom stories, are highly encouraged and may be of any length. As this journal is published as an e-text, multimedia (images, video, audio, etc.) is encouraged. Submissions should be submitted electronically via email to Sharon Daley at: shdaley@indiana.edu. The author(s) must agree that the submitted manuscript is original work and not currently under consideration for publication elsewhere. Manuscripts should include a complete title on the first page, but no identification of the author or affiliation should appear in the title or elsewhere in the submitted manuscript. Use "author" to ensure the submitted version is a blind copy. Be sure to adhere to APA 6th edition guidelines. Manuscripts are peer reviewed and the editor reserves the right to edit all copy. Each article is sent to at least two members of the editorial advisory board for review and recommendations are shared with the editor. Manuscripts are evaluated in terms of interest, quality of writing, appropriate documentation of ideas, uniqueness, and needs of the journal.
